U.S. Ready to Keep Troops at Same Level

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is willing to pledge along with its NATO allies to maintain current troop levels in Europe as one way to meet the new Soviet threat, administration sources say.
The sources say the issuing of such a pledge probably would be done in a joint statement.
They said this was among alternatives before the National Security Council at a meeting today called to chart policy toward the Soviet presence in Czechoslovakia, which points
like a dagger at the heart of free Europe.
President Johnson called the late afternoon session with his top military, defense and diplomatic aides earlier in the week while winding up a long stay at his ranch in Texas. He returned to Washington today.
The session parallels a similar review now going on in the inner chambers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at

WHY DO YOU HAVE A POOR MEMORY?

A noted publisher in Chicago
reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.
According to this publisher,
many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see,
hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.
To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send

Debate Issues Outlined by Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.
Winthrop Rockefeller outlined 15 issues Tuesday night which he said he would be willing to debate on television with the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, Marion H. Crank.
Rockefeller made public a letter he mailed to Crank with his suggestions for the issues to be debated and for a format to be used in conducting a debate.
The governor listed first the "regulation of utilities," a direct slap at Crank who stepped down as vice president for public relations of the Arkansas Cement Corp. at moreman to make the race for governor.
The Foreman plant is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.
Rockefeller suggested that the two candidates confront each other on "two or three one-hour programs with each of us having 15 minutes on each to present our views on three or four of the subjects agreed upon beforehand."
The governor also suggested that 20 minutes in each program be set aside for "a panel of persons, selected by an independent third party such as the Arkansas Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the fraternity of professional newsmen, who would explore our views more thoroughly on the agreed upon issues."
The governor said the remainder of the time could be equally divided for each candidate to sum up at the end of the program.
Rockefeller broke his 15 issues into sections which he said he would like to see covered in the respective sessions.
His first section included regulation of utilities, competitive bond bidding, legalization of gambling and securities and insurance regulation.
The second contained the issues of education financing, industrial and economic development and the candidates' highway program.
Issues in the third grouping
were constitutional revision and governmental reorganization and efficiency, election reform, financing state government and personnel policies in state government.
The fourth group included prison reform, jury selection procedures, maintenance of law and order, and welfare and rehabilitation.
"I would remind you that I proposed — prior to the Democratic primary election — to debate the issues with the nominee," Rockefeller wrote Crank.
"That offer still stands, and we would like to proceed as quickly as possible."
"I am hopeful that you will agree to an exchange of ideas
now as we work toward an agreement on which issues are appropriate for a debate, and then meet to iron out the final details," Rockefeller said.

Brussels.
Decisions made here will be transmitted to the U.S. contin-gent at NATO with the hope it will spur unity in any military or diplomatic retrenchment to meet the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and what some consider threatening gestures toward Romania.
Czechoslovakia now harbors
an estimated 200,000 elite Red invasion troops and appears to be causing the most concern.
Secretary of State Dean Rusk
was described Tuesday as accepting the word of Russian Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that his country does not plan to invade Romania.
Fresh reports of a troop build-
up along that nation's borders,
however, prompted President Johnson last week to beam straight at Moscow a speech that warned it "not to unleash
the dogs of war." And the subject was on the table before the NCS.
Although officials are reluctant to predict what the council will decide, they acknowledged that the United States would be agreeable to issuing a joint statement with its allies pledging no further reductions of forces in Europe.
Regarding American forces in Europe it is now clear that congressional requests for troop reductions can be shelved, the officials said.
Most of the 34,000 men to be redeployed and stationed in the
to NATO, under terms of a 1967 agreement, are back in this country, but officials indicated that the Defense Department might announce soon when in 1969 the men would be sent back for maneuvers in West Germany.
NATO also must take a new hard look at its accepted policy of detente with the Communist world, officials acknowledged.
In this connection they noted

Humphrey to Attend a Security Meet

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WAVERLY, Minn. (AP) —
Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey has cut short what was to have been a week-long rest and campaign
planning stay to attend a meeting of the National Security Council in Washington.
The vice president leaves his lakefront home today for Minneapolis, some 40 miles away, and will fly in his chartered jet to the capital for the late afternoon meeting.
Humphrey also plans to attend a Cabinet meeting in Washington Thursday before returning here later that day. More strategy talks are on tap Friday and Saturday.

Press Secretary Norman
Sherman described Humphrey's decision to attend the security council meeting as "a routine decision."
But it was felt here that the vice president wanted both to emphasize his role as one close to the policy level and to get any late information on the Eastern European and Vietnam situations.
Humphrey spent most of Tuesday in sessions here with

as significant that Soviet ambassadors in a number of West European capitals are making unconcealed efforts to explain that the invasion of Czechoslovakia was a domestic affair of the Communist bloc which should not hinder further efforts for detente and that, in Moscow's view, the West overreacted.
The Johnson administration might be willing to continue ef-orts to promote detente, but it must listen to the views of its allies in NATO, officials said. The NSC meeting, they said, could produce some statement of re-commitment, both of unchanged
U.S. interest in defending Europe and in the idea of East-West relaxation.

Earthquake Area Under Inspection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Shah and Empress of Iran flew to northeast Iran today to inspect the devastation of the weekend earthquakes that killed 11,000 of their people.

Some 1,400 miles to the west of Iran's stricken area, Turkish officials said 15 persons were killed Tuesday and some 200
were injured in an earthquake that jolted towns on the Black Sea east of Istanbul.
Iran's rulers were to visit the hardest hit villages including Khezri, Mim and Kakhk. In Kakhk alone, some 6,000 persons died.
Relief officials said there had been no reports of epidemics in the shattered towns but that large quantities of disinfectant, vaccine and sterilized water
were being taken to the stricken area.

Premier Amir Abbas Hoveida
said rescuers had abandoned attempts to recover more bodies
because of the danger of epidemics. He ordered ruins leveled by bulldozers, burying the unrecovered dead in the rubble.
He said homes in the area would eventually be rebuilt in the area using steel beams and heavy bricks instead of the traditional mud and wood.

The Iranian Embassy in London appealed for money, tents
and blankets to help the estimated 100,000 persons made homeless by the quakes. Oxfam,
a British volunteer relief agency, said it was ready to fly in more than a ton of blankets.

The U.S. State Department said Ambassador Armin Meyer
in Tehran was authorized to release $25,000 for medical and other aid for quake victims. The U.S. relief agency CARE said it had made several thousand packages of food available for the homeless.

Six Peace Corps workers at Marshed, 100 miles south of the area of greatest damage, were reported safe. They were the only Americans known to be in the area.

Iranian Air Force C130 transport planes carried engineers
into the area to build shelters for the homeless. Thousands of tents have already been set up as temporary shelter.

In Turkey, the Red Crescent
(Red Cross) sent some 2,000 tents, foodstuffs, blankets and a field kitchen to the quake area
200 miles east of Istanbul.

Premier Suleyman Demirel

said nine persons were killed in the town of Bartin, three in nearby villages, and another three in Amasra, 10 miles from Bartin.
The quake was felt over a large area, including Ankara, Istanbul and the Dardanelles,
but there were no reports of damage or casualties in those cities.

Gunmen Use Speedboat to Elude Police

By FRANK PHILLIPPI
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Using a speedboat called Cheetah, three gunmen eluded a small armada
of police boats and aircraft on Long Island Sound Tuesday after taking possibly as much as $70,000 from a City Island bank, police said.
The unusual getaway vehicle was found abandoned almost five hours later but police did capture a man they said had helped plan the spectacular robbery.

Police said that two armed men invaded the bank, about 1
p.m., and one forced bank personnel and customers to lie on the floor while the other cleaned from $40,000 to $70,000 from the tellers' drawers.

A spokesman for the Manufacturers' Hanover Trust Co.
branch said the men disarmed a guard but a teller, seeing the rifle carried by one robber, activated the alarm system and movie cameras.

Bank officials put the amount taken at $30,000 pending an audit.

The two men, one wearing a ski mask and the other carrying a bolt action shotgun, fled from the bank to the waiting outboard
motorboat in yellow panel truck which was reported stolen last month.

The gunmen transferred to the boat at a nearby mooring.
Witnesses reported they saw the boat's name as it churned away from the pier. They incorrectly reported the boat was blue and white, police said.

A police helicopter, nine police launches, a Coast Guard launch and a Coast Guard cutter spent several hours stopping and searching blue and white pleasure boats in the area before the boat's description was corrected. It was red and white.

The boat was finally found moored about 200 yards offshore
in Weir Creek, a branch of Eastchester Bay, near the Throgs Neck Bridge.

Police said they had discov-

Tucker Prison May Go to Honor System

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John
Haley, chairman of the state Board of Correction, said Tuesday that a lack of money for the state prison system may force the board to run Tucker Prison Farm under the honor system.

Haley said a decision on the future of Tucker is likely to be made by the middle of this month by the board. The board was to meet this morning at Tucker and this afternoon at Cummins Prison Farm.
He said the money shortage may force a reduction in the number of employees in the system, with the staff at Tucker possibly being cut from more than 30 to about five or six,
none of whom would carry guns.

Haley blames the shortage of money on the legislature. Haley says financial needs of the prison system have drawn so little assistance from the legislature
that if the General Assembly fails to increase the amount of money available to the prison system that he may resign from the board.

"I don't intend this as a threat," Haley said. "A lot of legislators would be happy to see me go and if they thought they could get rid of me by further abusing the prison system,
then they would."

Haley said the financial crisis
forces the board to face the possibility of firing at least 30 of the 105 employees at the two farms, or of reducing the quality of food in the prison dining halls
— in particular eliminating meat, milk and eggs — or moving most of the Tucker inmates to Cummins, putting 50 or 60 to work in the Tucker fields under the honor system.

He said the firing of employees
would be "a great slide back into the old days" and that the elimination of food was some-

ered the name of the boat's owner and was searching for him. It had been purchased last month in Putnam Valley, N.Y.

The suspect arrested Tuesday night was described as an unemployed computer operator named Dennis Geaney, 25, of the Bronx.

Police, who gave no details of the arrest, said Geaney was not present during the holdup. He is charged with conspiracy in connection with the robbery.

Wednesday, September 4, 1968
thing "we're not going to do."
Haley said he believed the legislature would provide the money needed when it convenes
in regular session in January.
To continue reform operations
such as "adequate food and clothing, minimum standards of decency, just taking care of the men" would require a budget of $2.25 million, Haley said.

Grounded F111 Going Back to Duty

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) —
The Air Force chief of staff said today the F111A fighter-bomber, grounded after triple tragedy, is ready to resume combat missions in Vietnam.

"We are now ready to return
the F111 to combat in Southeast Asia where it can again perform in the most challenging conflict
environment yet encountered,"
he said.

The remarks by Gen. John P.
McConnell supported an earlier declaration from Maj. Gen. Lee
V. Gossick, deputy for the F111 program, that the F111, once
the TFX, is "ready for combat operations again."

The Defense Department
called a halt to F111 missions
over Vietnam after three planes crashed, two of which were not recovered.

Air Force investigators said
the cause of at least one crash, and perhaps others, was a faulty actuator rod in the tail assembly. The malfunction
since has been corrected.

The mishaps added fuel to the lingering controversy over awarding of the multibillion dollar contract to General Dynamics-Fort Worth.

McConnell's comments were at an acceptance ceremony marking the turnover of the first F111C by the United States to the Australian government.

Look for These Stars to Rise This Fall

By JOAN CROSSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — You don't have to be a very old TV viewer to remember the first time you heard lyrics that went, "Who is the tall dark stranger there? Maverick is his name." and Jim Garner rode across the TV screen into instant stardom.

It might happen this year as Robert Brown runs down a mountain trail and Here Comes the Brides is launched on ABC-TV. Or the first time gangly Herb Edelman takes a pratfall as one of CBS-TV's The Good Guys. Or the first time 8-year-old Marc Copage lip-synchs his dialogue to Diahann Carroll on NBC-TV's Julia. Or the first moment strength and defiance flash out of the eyes of Otis Young, one of The Outcasts, on ABC-TV.

Robert Brown, who plays the flamboyant eldest brother in ABC-TV's Here Come the Brides, is a tall, blue-eyed Scot with a wide streak of poetry in his speech, a zest for life, and a charisma that makes people compare him to Richard Burton.

He was born on the Isle of Skye but raised in New York, so that there is just the faintest British tinge to his speech.

The father of a 17-year-old daughter he raised (he is divorced), Brown says a TV series was "a logical step. My brain says 'work towards a bank name.' If I become a star, I'll deny it because my father was a gentleman. I believe one should be alive to the place you're in and the people you're with and speak with gusto."

Otis Young, just turned 31, has a beautiful scene in the pilot of ABC-TV's The Outcasts in which he explains why, as a freed slave, he takes pride in his position as a bounty hunter.

Young's pride is similar. He passed up 23 roles in different TV shows because he didn't want to be what he calls a "four-line token Negro who established the Negro on the tube but could be cut if the show ran too long."

He was born in Providence, R.I. He and his twin are the oldest of 14 children, including three other sets of twins. He is divorced and the father of three boys (no twins).

Herb Edelman became an actor in 1960 at the age of 29. He first came to attention as a telephone man in "Barefoot in the Park" on Broadway, and was so funny his entrance set programs rustling as people looked to see his name. Now he is costarring with Bob Denver in CBS-TV's The Good Guys.

"What made him turn to acting? Fear and guilt. I was 29 and going to Brooklyn College. I had been there three years that time. I was what I am basically now—bald. After 'Barefoot' I did 'Bajour' on Broadway. When that closed I thought, 'I think I'll go to California.' I had saved a lot of money—almost $400. Then I got a part in the road tour of 'Luv' and I was here doing it for five weeks. I got a lot of nice reactions, like 'Get out of town.' But I came back and I've been here two years."

Doctors had no telephone answering services. The only way they could be sure of not being called out in the middle of the night to make a house call was to go on a vacation.

If you had told the average wife that some day men's shirts would be invented that wouldn't require ironing, she'd have burst into hysterical laughter. Mother became highly nervous when a telegraph messenger came to the door. She was sure the news was bad, because nobody would pay that kind of money to send good news. They'd wait and write a letter.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

THESE FACES will be featured in this television season's crop of new shows. They are (clockwise from left) Arlene Golonka, Elizabeth Baur, Peggy Lipton, Michael Cole, Clarence Williams III, Herb Edelman, Robert Brown, Don Pedro Colley, Otis Young, James Stacy, Wayne Maunder, Kent McCord, Don Marshall and Gail Fisher.

Webb's Adam-12 on NBC-TV, is an actor today because he is a good football player. He has been living with a friend's family. The friend went to UCLA and had a fraternity brother who was a friend of Rick Nelson. Kent was invited to play touch football on Rick's team against Elvis Presley's team. Kent and Rick became friends, and Kent started hanging around the set where the Nelsons were filming their series. He began working as an extra, then got lines, then wound up playing a fraternity brother of Rick's.

James Stacy and Wayne Maunder play half brothers on CBS-TV's Lancer. To anyone who saw Maunder on Custer last year, buried under long hair and a bushy mustache, his short-haired, clean shaven, extremely handsome look on the new series will make him seem like a newcomer. His personality is more relaxed, too, and he's happier, married and more confident. James Stacy is getting his break in the series, although he has done other pilots which didn't sell and some guest appearances, notably a good one in Cimarron Strip.

Stacy didn't start out to be an actor. He met an actress who talked him into attending classes with her. He was hooked—on acting, not the girl.

Don Pedro Colley got his name because his mother "had a little Latin blood" and she liked Spanish names. He's a giant, which is what any actor must be to play opposite Fess Parker. He'll be in at least six Daniel Boone episodes as Gideon, a fur trapper and teller of tall tales.

An Oregonian, Colley was a good enough track man to compete in the 1960 Olympic trials. As a junior in high school, he set a district record for his discus tossing, and was undefeated in competition during his senior season. He studied architecture at the University of Oregon, but went to San Francisco in 1961 and got involved in the theater. "I was a Bohemian," he says, "but in those days we were called beatniks." When he arrived in Los Angeles in February of 1966, he had $5. The move was part of what he calls his "overall acting and living plan. Each new day has a new dawn and you have to keep stepping up your levels, stopping long enough to give value to the future and the past."

It's wrong that an actor as handsome and talented as Don Marshall is unknown, even after he has had roles in six Alfred Hitchcock shows, six Chrysler Theaters, in Star Trek, 12 O'clock High, the Rogues, The Lieutenant, Kraft Suspense Theater, Rawhide, Dragnet, Tarzan, The Donna Reed Show and Inside. Hopefully his costarring part in ABC-TV's Land of the Giants may ease that situation.

Prior to landing in the pilot, Don's best roles had been a recent one (last season) in Inside, where he played a crook who snored his brother into thinking he was a victim of police persecution, and an old one in The Lieutenant in which he played a soldier involved in an ugly racial situation.

He has been rejected for roles because he is "too light," but he is not bitter. "I guess I'm an optimist. I believe in mankind. Yes, there has been a slight problem because I am Negro. I'm not blind to the problems in the industry. It has been a token effort so far and hasn't fully opened up."

At 25, Michael Cole, a serious, handsome, green-eyed co-star of ABC-TV's The Mod Squad, is the introspective one who says, "I've always been a rather private person and I don't know how to handle success." Clarence Williams III, to use his favorite expression, "really lays it on" as he smiles his gap-toothed smile and says, "The only thing that worries me is that it took me so long. I'm 24." Peggy Lipton, a tall, fragile blonde with an occasional slight stutter that betrays her deep emotions, smiles as she tries to avoid using the word "frightening" about the possibility of stardom, but can't avoid it.

Producer Aaron Spelling recalls Michael, the first one he met, "doing 10 minutes on why he didn't want the role. As for Clarence, I asked Bill Cosby to recommend an actor and he said, 'The best in the world is Clarence Williams III.' We tested 27 girls before we found Peggy. She had a contract at Paramount, but she was able to get free for this."

Ladies are generally in the minority on TV series. But it will be impossible to overlook Arlene Golonka, who is joining Mayberry R.F.D. as Ken Berry's girl friend. Mainly because Arlene is a delightful kook with a fine sense of comedy who, when it was suggested she change her name, said she would if she could use Sam Golonka. She's from Chicago, worked in New York as a hostess at the Gaslight Club while studying acting, and got several Broadway roles which brought her critical acclaim.

Elizabeth Baur is a beauty, with lustrous dark eyes, flawless skin, a tiny waist and a sensible outlook. At 20, she sits on the Lancer set, where she plays a tomboyish lass just beginning to realize she had feminine powers, and says, "I want to be very good. I don't want to be mediocre. I hate sitting around the set and I love it when I'm working."

She's the daughter of a casting director at 20th Century-Fox, but says "I hesitate to tell that because people will say, 'O.K., that's how the kid got in.' But it wasn't. My being an actress almost makes it harder for him because, if it was between another girl and me for a part, it would be the other one who would get it, just so there would be no favoritism."

Gail Fisher is married to a personal manager who handles people like Nancy Wilson, Cannonball Adderley, Joe Williams and Abbey Lincoln. She's close to music and, because she likes to write, has been very successful as a lyricist with "Mercy, Mercy" among other hits to her credit.

She hesitated about accepting a series role, but is now glad she's in Mannix because the scripts have her involved in the action and star Mike Connors is, she says, "beautiful people."

Cardinals Topple the Redlegs

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers, whose banjo-hitting style of attack often causes their pitching staff to sing the blues, suddenly blasted out a baseball version of the Anvil Chorus that all but tumbled the walls of Connie Mack Stadium.

Banjo hitter is a term that refers to a singles hitter, but the Dodgers were anything but that at Philadelphia Tuesday night. They pounded out three homers and five doubles to produce eight runs in the final two innings for a 10-9 victory over the Phillies.

Of the Dodgers' other four hits, three were singles and one was Ken Boyer's two-run homer in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place St. Louis topped Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, the New York Mets beat Atlanta 4-3 and then lost to the Braves 7-6 in 12 innings and the Chicago Cubs trounced San Francisco 8-3.

Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1, the New York Yankees took Baltimore 6-1, Boston beat Minnesota 4-1 in a game halted by rain after five innings, Cleveland slugged California 7-2 and Detroit topped Oakland 6-3 in the American League.

Willie Crawford led off the eighth inning by slamming a Dick Hall pitch off the right field light standard for a homer. Then with one out, Bill Sudakis homered over the right field wall and Boyer hit his second homer, off the upper left field stands.

Jim Lefebvre struck out, but pinch hitter Len Gabrielson walked and Gary Wagner relieved Hall. Tom Haller greeted Wagner with a double, and Ron Fainly slammed a pinch double that scored Gabrielson and Hall and tied the score 7-7.

Philadelphia took an 8-7 lead in the bottom of the eighth when Gary Sutherland walked with the bases loaded, but the Dodgers came right back with some more cannonading in the ninth. Crawford greeted John Bozzer with a double and scored on Davis' double. After Sudakis struck out and Boyer popped up, Lefebvre walked and Gabrielson doubled home Davis and Lefebvre.

Don Lock homered for the Phillies in the last of the ninth. St. Louis sent Cincinnati to its sixth straight loss when Curt Flood singled home one run and Roger Maris' sacrifice fly drove in another in the 11th inning. Johnny Bench's two-out, two-run homer in the Cincinnati night sent the game into extra innings.

Pittsburgh beat Houston when Willie Stargell's 22nd homer snapped a 2-2 tie with two out in the sixth, Houston had tied the game in the previous inning on John Bateman's run-scoring double and Jose Herrera's RBI single.

The Mets won the opener of their doubleheader by scoring a pair of runs on two fielder's choice plays in the seventh inning. New York got its first two runs on J. C. Martin's homer in the second.

In the nightcap, Art Shamsky's eighth-inning homer tied the score at 4-4, but Atlanta gained the victory when Tommie Aaron singled home two runs and Marty Martinez singled in another in the 12th.

New York came back with two in its half of the inning before Cecil Culp got the final out.

Tigers Boost Lead as the Orioles Fade

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Detroit's Jim Northrup probably will be happy to bid the fair city of Oakland farewell when the Tigers finish their yearly business there tonight.

The Athletics certainly will be glad to see him go. Northrup, who fought his way out of the American League's newest playground earlier this season after being flogged with a fastball, had some more ups and downs Tuesday night before stroking the key hit in a 6-3 triumph over the A's.

The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 6-1 loss to the New York Yankees, sent the first-place Tigers eight games in front of the fading Orioles in the AL stretch run.

Elsewhere, Washington edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Cleveland trimmed California 7-2 and Boston beat Minnesota 4-1 in a five-inning, rain-shortened game.

In National League play, St. Louis shaded Cincinnati 5-3 in 11 innings, Los Angeles outslugged Philadelphia 10-9, Pittsburgh nipped Houston 3-2, the Chicago Cubs downed San Francisco 8-3 and Atlanta split a two-night twin bill with the New York Mets, winning the nightcap 7-6 in 12 innings after a 4-3 loss.

Northrup committed a damaging error in the eighth inning as the Athletics rallied for three runs and a 3-2 edge. He then sent home the tying and deciding runs with a single in the ninth, sparking a four-run Tiger comeback.

The Detroit right fielder started the night on the downgrade, going hitless in his first three trips to the plate and stranding three base runners in the fifth. He singled to open the eighth—and was picked off first—but got back safely when John Donaldson's throw hit him in the head.

With the Tigers clinging to a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the eighth, Joe Keough laced a single to right, Allen Lewis raced home with the tying run and Sal Bando scored from first when Northrup booted the ball.

But the Tigers filled the bases again in the ninth and Northrup made amends for his miscue with a two-run single to right. Mickey Stanley scored the third run in the inning on a wild pitch and Northrup tallied the fourth on an infield roller, beating the throw to the plate with a sweeping slide.

Last May 26 at Oakland, Northrup was hit in the head by a Jack Aker pitch, but picked himself up and charged the Athletics' reliever, setting off a free-for-all that emptied both benches.

The Yankees caught up with Tom Phoebus, an old nemesis, in handling the Orioles their sixth setback in eight games. Phoebus, who took a 6-0 lifetime record against New York into the game, blanked the Yanks on one infield single until the sixth, when they knocked him out and grabbed a 2-1 lead on a walk and four singles.

Left-hander Fritz Peterson protected the margin until the ninth, when Roy White's bases-loaded triple and Robinson's second RBI single wrapped it up. Peterson, 34, was hit by a pitch in the ninth and Dooley Womack finished up.

Tim Cullen's two-run pinch single in the sixth overcame a

Houston, Oakland AFL Picks

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — As the New York Jets trudged out of the locker room at their training camp recently, a fan studied them for a moment, then said, "They look like the Green Bay Packers."

Unfortunately for the Jets, they don't look like the Packers on the field.

In fact, they might not even look like the Houston Oilers. That's why the Oilers should repeat as Eastern Division champions and go into the American Football League title game against the Oakland Raiders.

That would be a repeat of last year's title contest, and in this opinion, the outcome will be repeated, too—the Raiders winning and going into the Super Bowl for another crack at the National League.

Here's how the standings could look at the end of the season:

- | | |
|-------------|----------------|
| East | West |
| 1. Houston | 1. Oakland |
| 2. New York | 2. Kansas City |
| 3. Buffalo | 3. San Diego |
| 4. Miami | 4. Denver |
| 5. Boston | 5. Cincinnati |

Because they have Joe Namath, the Jets for the past couple of years have been considered a likely candidate for the title game. But after good starts each time, the Jets have failed to make it.

This year again they have to be given a good chance to win in the East, but from this view they'll miss again after a brutal struggle. Actually, it's not too far fetched to foresee the Eastern crown being decided in a playoff game.

The Oilers had two things going for them last year—a tremendously stingy defense and a pair of rugged runners, Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell. If they can get a better than mediocre passing game to join the combination, they should get by New York.

The Jets, on the other hand, could surprise if halfback Emerson Boozer returns to his pre-injury 1967 form. He's still recuperating from knee surgery, though, and it'll take some time for him to join Namath and form a more potent offense.

None of the other teams in the division appears strong enough to challenge the Oilers and Jets. For a while, Buffalo looked as if it might bounce back toward the top, but then injuries set in, including a damaging one to quarterback Jack Kemp, who's out for the season with torn knee ligaments.

Miami is progressing rapidly but still not far enough along, and Boston has too many problems, including one at quarterback where Mike Taliaferro is trying to make the Patriot offense go.

Despite a couple of Achilles tendon injuries that most likely will keep defensive tackle Tom Keating and linebacker Bill Lasky out for the season, the Raiders appear to have too much to be unseated.

They'll miss Keating and Lasky, but they still have a rugged bunch of defenders led by middle linebacker Dan Connors and cornerback Kent McCloughan.

Kansas City could surprise and challenge Oakland, but its reshuffled defense still must prove itself. The Chiefs' biggest chance is for complacency to hit the Raiders.

The same goes for San Diego although the Chargers' defense keeps them a little behind the Chiefs.

The fight for fourth place could be an interesting one because the Denver Broncos are hurting without quarterback Steve Tenen for at least the first four games, while the expansion Cincinnati Bengals have displayed an unexpectedly tough defense.

The Broncos, however, should barely stay ahead of Cincinnati, which has not shown any kind of scoring punch.

Bobcat Starter Breaks Arm

By RALPH ROULTON
Star Sports Writer
After three weeks of rough practices and no injuries, the Hope High coaching staff knew they had it coming. They surely did.

The Bobcats lost their first starter to injury of the entire preseason workouts Monday night when defensive halfback James Rowe, a senior two-year letterman, suffered a broken arm in scrimmaging.

However, the break was considered a clean one, and James, 4-11, a champion in the mile run, will be able to start running in about two weeks to keep in shape. It is expected that he will miss at least four games, and after that he will have to play in a cast for several more weeks.

Without Rowe, junior John Spraggins moved over from safety to take over the halfback spot, and scrappy soph Sidney Waller will start at safety. Waller is the only sophomore who will start, and at 5'6" and 150 pounds will be one of the smallest. He has made the transition to senior high ball very well, though, and the coaches have been pleased with his progress thus far in drills.

As for practices, the Bobcats had to work out inside Jones Field House yesterday afternoon after heavy rains had covered both the practice field and the Hammons Stadium turf the whole day. Before working out the squad saw a film of the intrasquad game last Thursday night.

Beginning today Head Coach Ronnie Higgins will taper things off before Friday night's opener at Hammons Stadium with the 7-A Ashdown Panthers. Kickoff time is set for 7:30 p.m., and a large crowd is expected to come out and see the Bobcats go at it against a rival of slightly less personnel.

Coach Gaylord Solomon's Bob-kittens were scheduled to practice in full pads for the first time yesterday afternoon but were rained out. The first scrimmaging has been scheduled for this afternoon, weather permitting.

The junior highs have a fairly easy schedule this year with seven opponents and one open week during the second week of October. A real advantage lies in the fact that five of the Kittens' games will be at home, including the last four contests. Among the teams on the '68 slate are Prescott, De Queen, and Nashville of 7-A, and Camden, Arkadelphia, Magnolia, and Fairview of 4-A. The season starts with a game at Prescott next Thursday night, the 12th of September.

El Paso Mows Down Travs in Playoff
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Despite getting only three hits, El Paso mowed down Arkansas 3-1 Tuesday night in the first game of a best-of-five series for the Texas League baseball championship.

The second game will be played here tonight before moving to El Paso Thursday where the series will be concluded.

El Paso, winners of the Western Division, got two of their hits and one run in the first inning, the hits going to Jim Spencer and Don Wilkinson.

Arkansas knotted the score in the first when Leron Lee's infield groundout sent home Jerry Dayanov.

Bill Bethea put El Paso ahead in the fourth when he singled home Dennis Paepke. The Sun Kings scored in the ninth on two walks and an error.

Arkansas, which had eight hits, loaded the bases in the seventh but failed to score.

Fifth and sixth homers in a 10-9 victory over Philadelphia.

PITCHING—Joe Coleman, Senators, scattered four hits on the way to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

TED KWALICK is called the best tight end in collegiate football by Penn State coach Joe Paterno and the Nittany Lions are again expected to dominate the eastern grid-iron scene. Kwalick and his teammates will be defending the Lambert Trophy, awarded for last year's 8-2 season record.

Broyles Is Displeased With Porks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles expressed displeasure with his Razorbacks Tuesday following their first workouts in pads.

"It was a bad practice — a really bad practice," Broyles said.

"Our passing is worse," he said. "The passers aren't throwing the ball nearly as well as they had been."

The Porkers spent their first three drills without pads for conditioning purposes. Broyles scheduled a scrimmage for this afternoon following the annual tour of Southwest Conference sports writers this morning.

"I bet you the players didn't think the pads were that heavy," Broyles said. "They slowed us down tremendously."

Rosewall Is Favored in Tennis Meet

Associated Press Sports
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — This may be the era of long-hairs and youth in tennis but a conservative, 33-year-old Australian with a neat $2 trim is the new favorite to collect the $16,000 first prize in the U.S. Open Championship.

"Now that Rod Laver is out of it, you have to pick Ken Rosewall," said Arthur Ashe, the new U.S. amateur champion, who might have spoken a few words in his own behalf after a straight-set victory over Roy Emerson of Australia.

Laver, winner at Wimbledon, king of the pros for the last three years and No. 1 seed here, was unceremoniously dumped from the competition Tuesday by Cliff Drysdale, a 29-year-old rookie pro from South Africa who hits a backhand the way Mickey Mantle swings a baseball bat.

The score was 4-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1. Laver's serving collapsed and he delivered 14 double faults, five in the final set.

Rosewall, who was champion of the pros before the appearance of Laver, plays big Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., today in one of the remaining four men's fourth round matches.

In the others, Pancho Gonzales, 40, the onetime king of the courts, faces second-seeded Tony Roche of Australia; Tom Okker, the giant-killer from the Netherlands, opposes Britain's Peter Curtis, and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., faces Nicola Pietrangeli of Yugoslavia, who put out Charlie Pasarell.

Two more women will enter the semifinals. The favored Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the Wimbledon winner, plays Maryna Godwin of South Africa and Margaret Smith Court of Australia takes on Maria Bueno of Brazil, the girl she whipped last week for the U.S. amateur title. The winners meet for a finalist spot.

A pair of British girls clash in the other semifinal. They are second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones, who beat Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 10-8, 6-3, and hard-serving Virginia Wade, victor over Judy Tegart of Australia 6-3, 6-2.

The elimination of Laver provided the tournament's big shock Tuesday but two others, Newcombe and Ralston, had narrow escapes.

Many Pro Grid Vets Released

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Youth must be served, and none know it better than the batch of pro football veterans who got their walking papers Tuesday.

Among the jobless were Buffalo fullback Wray Carlton, the American Football League club's all-time rushing leader, and Bob Scarpitto of Denver, the AFL's leading punter the past two seasons.

Others who got the pink slip included Washington defensive back Jimmy Burson, a six-year veteran of the National League for whom the Redskins traded during the off-season; offensive guard Bookie Bolin of the New York Giants, another six-year man who played on two Eastern Conference championship teams, and Baltimore defensive back Jimmy Welch, who had survived eight campaigns.

A couple of big-name youngsters also got the ax. Washington asked waivers on fullback Ray McDonald, the team's No. 1 draft choice a year ago. And Boston gave up on quarterback Don Trull, a three-year veteran acquired from Houston in an effort to shore up the Patriots' offense.

That handed the signal-calling job to Mike Taliaferro, obtained from the New York Jets several weeks ago for Babe Parilli, and rookie Tom Sherman, a free agent from Penn State.

McDonald, a 245-pound bruiser from Idaho, was philosophical about his release, although he averaged 4.3 yards in 52 carries last season despite missing six games because of injuries.

"I hope no other NFL team puts in a claim for me," he said. "I want to make the Redskins' squad, I know I can play football, but I need more experience."

If no one claims him, McDonald will play with the Virginia Sailors of the Atlantic Coast League.

Carlton and Scarpitto also said they will try to hook on with other clubs. Carlton, 31, joined Buffalo when the AFL was born in 1960 and gained 3,368 yards over the years.

Scarpitto, who also has played split end on occasion, set an AFL record of 45.8 yards per punt in 1966 and averaged 44.9 last year, including a 73-yarder, longest in AFL history.

With the AFL getting under way this weekend, Boston learned that fullback Jim Nance has only a 50-50 chance of playing in Sunday's opener at Buffalo.

1-0 Chicago lead and Joe Coleman made it stand up with a four-hitter as the Senators climbed within one game of the ninth-place White Sox.

Cullen delivered the winning hit off reliever Wilbur Wood, who had inherited a bases-loaded jam from starter Cisco Carras.

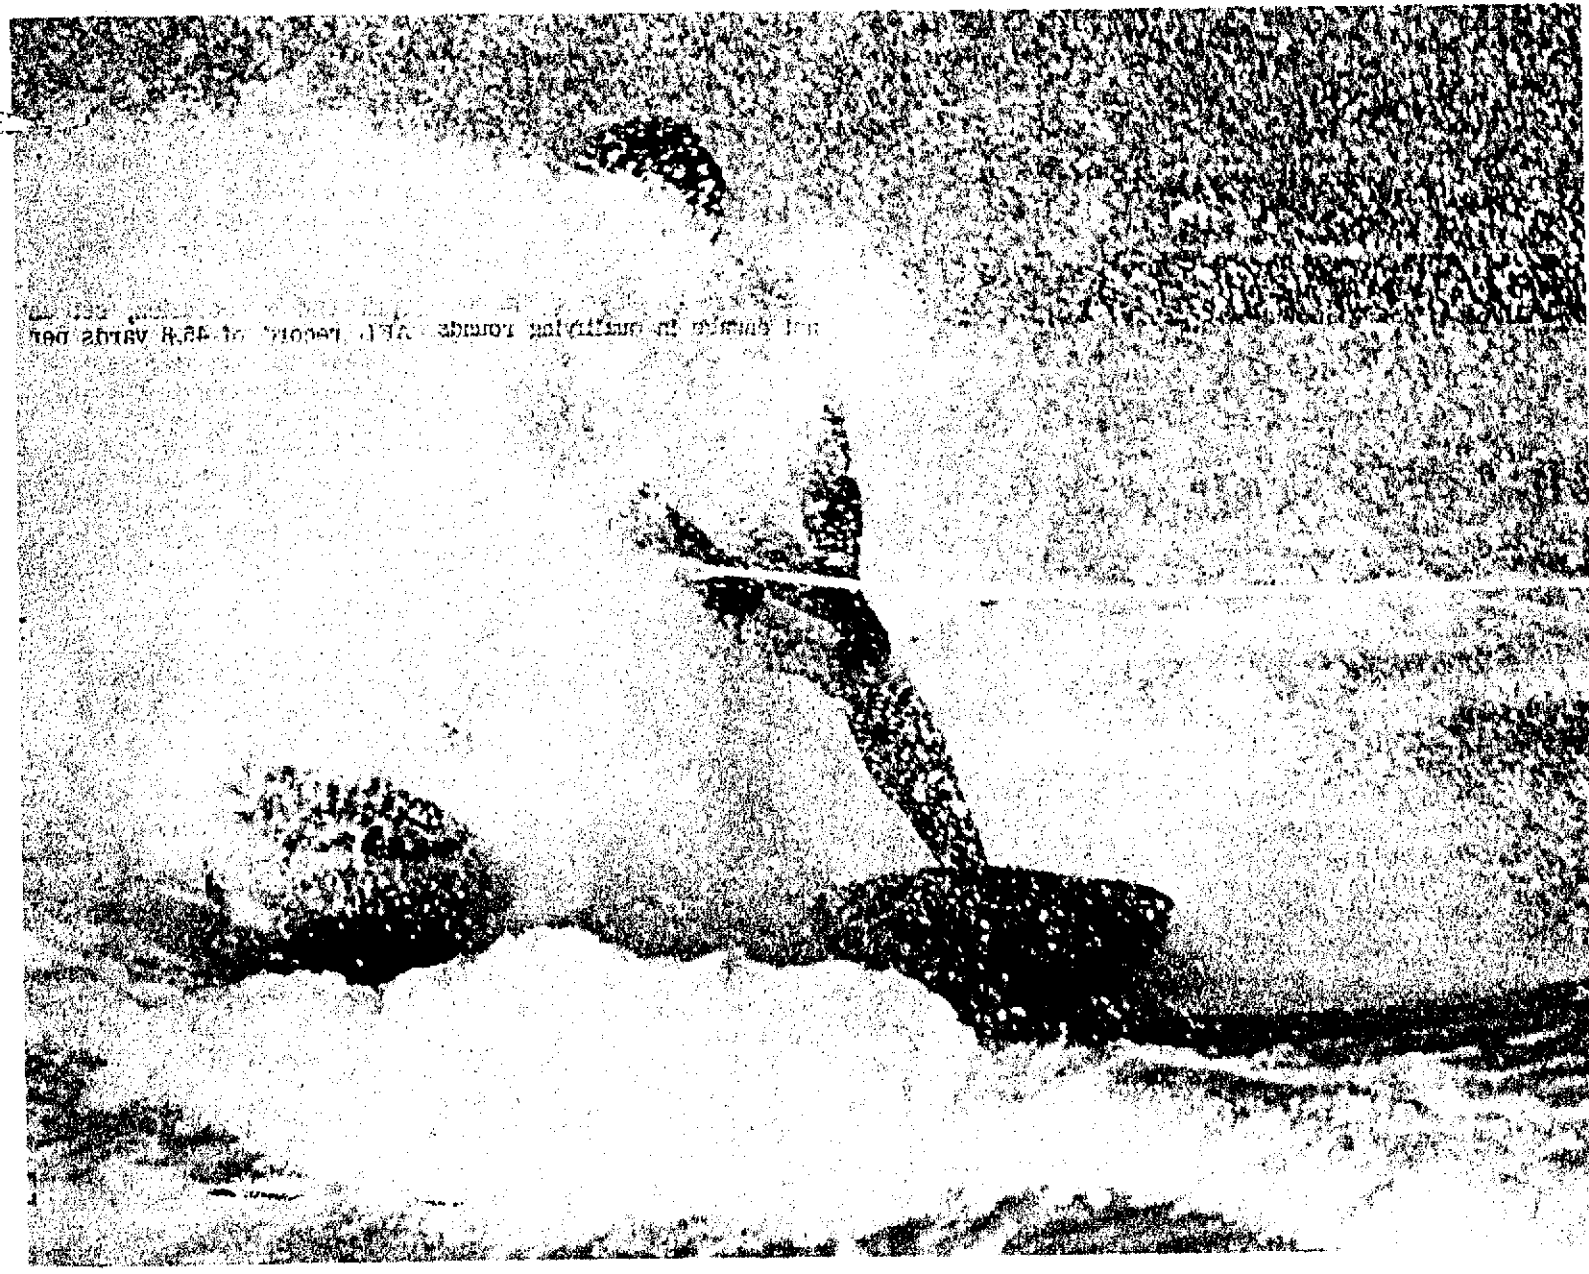

Russ Snyder drove in three runs with a single and his third homer and Lee Maye also homered, leading the Indians past the Angels. Southpaw Sam McDowell, 14-11, needed late relief help from icante Romo.

Reggie Smith's two-run homer and a pair of run-scoring singles by Joe Foy carried the Red Sox past the Twins.

Hope Watermelons Make Big Splash at the HemisFair

BEFORE—HemisFair Mercury Outboard Water Ski Show clown Tom Kendall carries a 102-pound Cobb Gem watermelon from Arkansas around the fair's lagoon Thursday. It was a warmup for the greatest test.

AFTER—Ski whiz Mundo Villegas finally accomplished what the water skiers thought for a while would be impossible. He is skiing on nothing but weighty, scooped-out watermelon rinds.

L to R — Stew McDonald, Master of Ceremonies and Ski Show Manager at the HemisFair with members of his Mercury Outboard Water Ski Show: Carol Black, Bonniesue Porter and Glen Sperry. They are preparing an eighty (80) pound melon for special guest star from the world famous Club de Esquis in Acapulco, Mexico Mundo Villegas — As far as the records show this is a first — especially with a melon as large as this one.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Last week C. M. (Pod) Rogers and Carter Russell of Hope took a truckload of large melons to the HemisFair at San Antonio, Texas. Several weighed over 100 pounds and they created amazement at every stop. The San Antonio Express published two pictures showing a skier carrying a 102-pound melon and the other is skiing in the rinds of the melon. The pictures were made by Jim English of the Express and the article was written by Sam Kindrick, Express feature writer. The article and picture outlines are exactly as published in the San Antonio newspaper.)

By SAM KINDRICK
An old boy named of Pod Rogers came tooling in Thursday from the Ozarks with a truckload of genuine Cobb Gem watermelons and wound up by disrupting the Mercury Outboard Water Ski Show at HemisFair.
Pod started bursting the melons and Stu McDonald's skiers started landing on their derriers. While the Mercury boys are reputed to be the world's greatest, they had their acid test while trying to ski on Pod's Cobb Gem watermelon rinds.
Anyone who would haul a truckload of Cobb Gems all the way from Arkansas would have to be called something like Sawdust, Uncle Bob, Cooter Bill or Pod, but let it be known that this watermelon thump was officially sanctioned.

Mayor W. W. McAllister was there, flanked by Arkansas Pavilion pretties Glenda Brown and Martha Masters, while pavilion resident commissioner Cleo Stern presided.
Over and over again the prides of the skiing world went end-over-end into the fair lagoon, only to come up spitting water and watermelon seeds.
As the skiers flailed the breeze, Pod and ski show emcee Stu McDonald crouched with camera ready for the unprecedented feat.

The mayor smiled wisely, while Glenda and Martha cheered the brave boys on.
Pod is the circulation manager of a Hope, Arkansas newspaper, and full well understands the value of such events.
Emcee McDonald is equally persistent, especially so while standing on dry land dressed in bermudas and sneakers.
"We won't give up," he valiantly announced, "We'll get up on those melon skins if it kills us."

As a sidelight, several of the skiers almost ruptured themselves trying to carry a 102-pound Cobb Gem around the lagoon, and it was muscular ski clown Tom Kendall who finally accomplished that little semi-final event.
However, it took Lilliputian ski whiz Mundo Villegas, the world's shortest skier, to finally get up and ride the waves on Pod's melon hulls.
Mundo is too light to hang, and those big scooped-out melon rinds almost scuttled him before he finally rose triumphantly in a silver spray to skitter three times around the lagoon before falling.

A great cheer went up from the Arkansas delegation and other members of the ski troupe. The mayor smiled proudly.
Pod was beside himself.
The little Mexican from Acapulco crawled from the water, wheezing like a half-drowned muskrat.
"It's the hardest thing I've ever done," he gasped, smiling broadly. "The melon rinds are round and very heavy. They want to go down. Barefoot skiing is much easier."
McDonald took mike in hand to reproach the doubters.
"I knew we could do it," he announced. "We never give up on anything."

Congress to Take Up Aid, Gun Control

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says Congress has about four weeks to clean up legislation which includes such emotional issues as gun control, foreign aid and President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations.
Mansfield said Tuesday on the eve of Congress' return from a month-long recess that by October campaigning will probably lure away congressmen necessary for quorums in the chambers.
Mansfield said Congress could recess and return in November, but he added that another extra session could possibly affect only the Senate, which is confronted by President Johnson's nomination of Justice Abe Fortas as chief justice of the Supreme Court and by the nuclear nonproliferation treaty whose future is clouded by Soviet moves in East Europe.
Nothing major is scheduled for callup this week in either the House or the Senate. But committees will be busy, especially the Senate Judiciary which is considering the Fortas nomination.
Major unfinished business in both branches on which some action is likely includes a $72.7-billion measure for the Defense Department and probably a record low $1.96 billion foreign aid bill, control of interstate sales of shotguns and rifles, aid to education, extension of the basic farm programs, congressional reorganization and possibly some changes in election laws.
Since all 435 House seats and 34 of the 100 Senate chairs will be filled in November, members are anxious to get the pending business done so they can go home and campaign.
Visits home during the recess that started Aug. 2 have convinced many members that this is not the year to take the voters for granted.
President Johnson submitted Aug. 5 a list of 40 items he said cry out for action this year. But time and election fever are decimating the list.
Among the items for which chances appear to be dimming are reciprocal trade legislation, a child health program, a drug control bill and a measure to lower the voting age to 18.

G&F Ouster Hearing Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's ouster hearing for a member of the state Game and Fish Commission was continued indefinitely Tuesday pending a physical examination for the commissioner, Raymond Farris of Biscoe.

Tuesday's session lasted about three hours, most of which was devoted to testimony about Farris' health. Two doctors said that for Farris to undergo the hearing would probably be detrimental to his health.

Farris is being treated for tuberculosis.

Farris will undergo an impartial physical examination next Tuesday, to be given by Dr. John Schultz of Little Rock. The governor is to determine whether Farris can attend the hearings after he receives the results of Schultz' examination. The governor would then reset the hearing date if he deemed Farris physically capable of attending.

Rockefeller has charged Farris with nine counts of misconduct.

Interchange at Prescott Up for Bids

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission will open bids Sept. 25 on 11 highway projects with an estimated total cost of $6.6 million. The projects, by county: NEVADA—Construction of an interchange at Interstate 30 and Arkansas 19 northwest of Prescott.

FRANKLIN — Grading and structures on Interstate 40 for 597 miles westward from the Arkansas 23 interchange northwest of Ozark.

SEBASTIAN—Construction of a bypass of U.S. 71 around Greenwood covering a distance of 4.8 miles.

CRITTENDEN—Two bridges and a culvert along 3 of a mile of Arkansas 42 between Arkansas 118 and Interstate 55.

WOODRUFF — Drainage structures on Arkansas 17 for 16 miles northward from east of Cotton Plant.

CALHOUN — Shoulder improvement along 14.9 miles of Arkansas 4 from Locust Bayou to Harrell, except in the town of Hampton.

DALLAS — Surfacing of Arkansas 9 from Arkansas 8 at Princeton to the Hot Spring County line.

COLUMBIA—Surfacing of 5.9 miles of Arkansas 132 from Taylor northward.

DALLAS — Surfacing of 2.2 miles of Arkansas 273 from Arkansas 229 north of Fordyce to U.S. 67.

CLARK — Surfacing of 1.6 miles of the Clark County Children's Colony Road from the colony south to Arkansas 390, then east and north to Arkansas 7.

FAULKNER—Surfacing of 3.1 miles of U.S. 65 from near the connecting road to Interstate 40 south of Conway, north to near Arkansas 286 near bbrumley and from U.S. 65 and 5th Street in Conway north to U.S. 64 and Arkansas 25 at Conway.

Among the items for which chances appear to be dimming are reciprocal trade legislation, a child health program, a drug control bill and a measure to lower the voting age to 18.

Farris' attorney, Sam Robinson, requested an itemized list of expenses incurred during the investigation of Farris, the names of persons or firms to whom money was paid or is owed by the state. The investigation, the sources of the funds used in the investigation and a listing of any state funds that were spent.

Rockefeller declined to grant the motion, touching off an exchange between the two men. Eventually, when Rockefeller walked out of the meeting room.

"I know Judge Robinson recognizes that who made the investigation and what it may cost and who pays the bills are all irrelevant to the question of whether a commissioner has been guilty of misconduct," Rockefeller said.

When Rockefeller completed his remarks, Robinson said, "We want to know who we're fighting."

Rockefeller said he had already ruled on the motion but Robinson demanded to know why the motion was not granted.

"It is totally irrelevant," the

Woman Jailed for Possessing Narcotics

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Edna Ledbetter, 48, of Malvern was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond Tuesday after she was arrested and charged with possession of narcotics, State Police Director Ralph Scott said.

Scott said she waived preliminary hearing before Circuit Judge Henry Means.

Scott said he was unable to say for certain how much narcotics was taken by the federal and state agents who made the arrest.

governor said. "You can't shut me up," Robinson said.

"That's quite obvious," Rockefeller replied.

As Rockefeller started leaving the room, Robinson said, "You're governor of Arkansas and you're the one that's supposed to hear it," Rockefeller did not reply as he departed.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Sniffing Gasoline Fumes Can Cause Brain Damage

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

The folly of gasoline sniffing has been well-publicized. Loss of consciousness has been observed in some persons who have persisted in this pastime. Now a recent report indicates that, because almost all commercial gasolines contain tetraethyl lead, serious lead poisoning may result from this habit. Small amounts of lead absorbed through the lungs can cause permanent brain damage.

It is far better to emulate Ferdinand and the bull and smell the flowers for kicks. Their fragrance is sweeter than that of gasoline and their harmful side effects are nil.

Q—In hot days when I go into an air-conditioned store I immediately get severe abdominal cramps and have loose bowel movements. This also happens in winter when, after sleeping under an electric blanket, I get up in a cold house. What causes this and what will help?

A—You have a very irritable colon. Chilling the abdomen usually aggravates this condition. The treatment is not easy and usually requires the attention of a gastroenterologist.

Q—In a recent column you said that cholestyramine had reduced the blood cholesterol level of a number of persons with hardening of the arteries. My doctor never heard of it. Does it have any other name?

A—It is sold under the trade names Cuemid and Questran.

Q—In a recent article you said that taking cortisone during pregnancy would interfere with adrenal function of the fetus. How would it do this? Is Meticorten in this class?

A—Cortisone is derived from the adrenal glands. An excess of adrenal hormone in the baby's blood supplied through the umbilical cord removes the stimulus for the baby to develop his own adrenal hormone. Prednisone (Meticorten) is a synthetic cortisone.

Q—What is meant by pelvic inflammatory disease, urethral stenosis and cystoscopy with urethral dilation?

A—PID is a general term for inflammation of the uterus (endometritis), uterine tubes (salpingitis) or ovaries (oophoritis). The cause is an infection following delivery or complicating a venereal disease. Urethral stenosis is a narrowing of the urethra. A cystoscopy is an instrument that is passed into the bladder so that its walls can be seen. Dilation or stretching the urethra is standard treatment for a urethral stenosis.

Q—When were dolls introduced into America?
A—"Letitia Penn" is probably the oldest doll in America. It was brought from England to Philadelphia by William Penn in 1699. Made of wood, it is dressed in a gown of velvet like a lady of the English court.

Q—What tree has leaves of three different shapes?
A—The sassafras tree. The leaves differ in shape, even on the same twig; some have no lobes, other have two or three.

Fortas Hearing Revived by Committee

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court pornography decisions and the uncertain impact of the presidential nominations were key factors today as opponents renewed their assault on the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice.

Sen. John L. McClellan, setting the stage for today's resumption of Senate Judiciary Committee debate on the nomination, showed three stag party films Tuesday to staff aides of noncommittee senators.

The Arkansas Democrat, presumably trying to drum up support for opposition to Fortas outside the committee, called the films "degrading."

He said they "ought to be shown at a committee hearing and made part of the record."

Fortas, as an associated justice voted with the majority that found two of the films not to be pornography. The vote became a major point in opponents' arguments just before Congress broke Aug. 3 for the political conventions.

Co., did not reply immediately to Daley's request.

Daley announced his request during a three-minute news conference Tuesday in which he read a statement and then left immediately, refusing to answer newsmen's questions.

The statement said in part: "... Under all principles of fairness, the background and planning for the purpose of disrupting the city and the national convention, the tactics used by the demonstrators, the biographies of the organizers and leaders, the role of the law enforcement agencies and the grave implications of these events, to the cities of America, which were not portrayed during the convention coverage, should be presented to the American public."

The mayor also said he had named a committee to investigate the violent confrontations between police and young peace demonstrators which resulted in 500 arrests and injuries to many persons, including 24 newsmen and 152 policemen.

An aide to Daley said the committee includes James B. Conlisk Jr., police superintendent; Robert Quinn, fire commissioner, and members of the Chicago Corporation Counsel's office and the Department of Health.

In another development, Thomas Foran, U.S. district attorney, announced a federal grand jury session would be extended until the FBI completes a study of the conduct of police and demonstrators and the beating of newsmen.

Foran said if the FBI report, ordered by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, is comprehensive enough, the grand jury's investigative powers will not be required.

The district attorney also commented: "If policemen were getting a little wild, they can't be blamed, in light of the provocations and the long hours."

saw Pact allies and one Communist source said: "I just cannot see how they could risk leaving our country during the next 10 days."

The Czechoslovak army stood firmly behind liberal Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek and supplied emergency transmitters to the underground radio stations that operated extensively during the first 10 days of the occupation.

New occupation troop movements were reported Tuesday away from public buildings in Prague, toward the West German border and back into Hungary from Czechoslovakia.

Soviet forces withdrew from the headquarters of the national news agency CTK, the radio station at Bratislava, President Svoboda's headquarters in Hradecany Castle and most ministries. But Russian soldiers still guarded the ministries of interior, which controls the police, and defense.

Soviet armored cars also abandoned their guard of the U.S. Embassy but one remained in front of the office of an American airline.

Izvestia said occupation troops were ordered into the cities of Cheb and Karlovy Vary near the West German border because "in recent days reactionary forces have succeeded in stirring up disorder" there, it did not describe the disorders.

Radio Bratislava reported that Hungarian troops stationed in southern Slovakia were going home in increasing numbers. Some reports said there had been incidents between the Slovaks and Hungarian soldiers.

Court Ruling
in Damage Suit Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court Tuesday reversed a ruling it issued May 13 and declared that a widow had the right to collect damages from the manufacturer and retailer of the truck in which her husband was killed.

The high court, issuing the new ruling on a rehearing, said Mrs. Chester L. Tritt was entitled to a $40,000 judgment against the Ford Motor Co. and Burnham-Ray Co. of Paris.

The court said Circuit Judge Carl K. Creekmore had erred in not allowing a mechanical engineer to link the truck's defective axle to the accident which killed Chester Tritt, 38, in March, 1964.

Hughes' Democratic Senate campaign.

A top supporter of McCarthy's Democratic bid—former Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell—said meanwhile he will now support the party's nominee, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

"Let's face it—unite and fight another day," Mitchell said in Taos, N.M.

Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen announced he will not support Humphrey because of differing views over the Supreme Court and other issues. But the announcement did not signal a general bolt by Southern Democratic leaders.

Those who previously indicated they would back Humphrey remained firm. Three governors who have indicated they favor third party candidate George C. Wallace—Govs. Lester Maddox of Georgia, Albert Brewer of Alabama and John Bell Williams of Mississippi—took no new public stands.

Wallace appealed on national television Tuesday night for money and votes from "mainstream America" and particularly urged unregistered voters to get on the rolls and vote for him.

The appeal came at the end of a half hour of time purchased from the National Broadcasting Co., following films of Wallace speeches and interviews.

The former Alabama governor was resting and writing speeches in Miami today, where he said he is on the November ballot in 46 states and "we will get the other four soon."

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, who launches his campaign drive tonight in Chicago, says voters are more concerned with issues than candidates this year. He said the presidential outcome is unpredictable.

"When people are more concerned about issues than men," Nixon said in New York, "they make up their minds by what the candidates say about the issues."

"This is the year when people are wrought up," he said, "This is the year when people are unpredictable."

Nixon's running mate, Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, also returned to the campaign trail today with stops planned in Wisconsin, Ohio and several Eastern states.

Humphrey formally kicks off his Democratic presidential campaign Monday in Philadelphia. He planned to interrupt strategy sessions as Waverly, Minn., today to return to Washington for a National Security Council meeting.

NIXON OPENS

Pittsburgh. He pointed out that the itinerary covers all four sections of the nation.

"We start definitely on an upbeat note," he said, "not because of what happened at the Democratic convention but at ours. We won the nomination without splitting the party."

He said Chicago was selected as the kickoff point for his campaign weeks before the Democratic convention, during which violent disorders erupted.

Nixon indicated that he might issue a statement on the rioting and the charges that the Chicago police "overreacted" against demonstrators. "I am studying it now," he said.

His Chicago schedule called for a motorcade through the Loop and then at 9 p.m. CDT a question-and-answer session, on live television with a panel and an audience. "If I don't make the statement, we may deal with it during the telecast," he said.

Speaking generally about the outlook for the campaign, Nixon said there are more undecided voters today than there were in 1960 when he lost a hairline race to John F. Kennedy.

"The issues are more volatile today," Nixon said. "In 1960, there was no war in Vietnam. Disorders in the cities were not a great issue. There was no inflation."

Because of the issues confronting the voters today, he continued, "We can change a lot of people's minds."

Asked about the effect of former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's candidacy, Nixon said he does not believe "people are going to waste their votes on a third party candidate." As his campaign and that of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey develops, he said, the support for Wallace will diminish. "I could be wrong," Nixon added.

He described Illinois, California, Texas and Pennsylvania as "up for grabs" in this election.

In the final weeks of the campaign, he said he plans to concentrate on what he called "the big seven"—New York, California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Texas. They have a total of 210 electoral college votes.

With respect to the Southern states, Nixon said he will campaign in Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Run Up Bill
During Fire

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The city of St. Petersburg Beach has received a $421 food and bar bill from a businessman who says it was run up by firemen, police and city officials during a fire a year ago.

The town's mayor, Richard Ercius, said that the city doesn't plan to pay the bill unless directed by the courts.

The bill came from Jack O'Donnell, owner of Lund's Hotel, who said the food and drinks were consumed during a fire at the Pass-A-Grille Beach Hotel last September.

He said the bill actually came to twice the amount he is asking and itemized it this way: Nine quarts of liquor, $192; 413 hamburgers, $206; 350 hot dogs, $122; $234 draft beers, $81; 203 cans of beer, $71; and 1,000 cups of coffee, $150.

O'Donnell maintained he served more than 150 persons, but the fire department claimed the number of firemen was only 150.

Warns Cong
About Attacks
on Cities

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The United States warned North Vietnam today not to push too hard against South Vietnam's cities and outposts.

"Such action can only set back the purpose of our conversations," Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy at the 20th session of the Paris peace talks.

The American diplomat also disputed Hanoi's claim that all Vietnamese have the right to defend any part of Vietnam, South as well as North.

"North Vietnamese forces have no such right," Harriman declared. "Your government cannot grant itself that right... There is no way that you can justify the presence of your forces in the South."

Harriman insisted that the United States is fighting in Vietnam at the request of the Saigon government to help the South defend itself against Hanoi's aggression.

"We have said time and again that we are prepared to withdraw our forces as you withdraw yours, as infiltration ends and the level of violence subsides," he said. "We will live up to that pledge and we ask whether you are prepared also to withdraw your forces and to let the people of South Vietnam determine their own future?"

Harriman told newsmen that North Vietnamese are doing almost all the fighting in South Vietnam, and the Viet Cong is playing a minor role. He demanded that Hanoi quit fighting at once and also called once again on the North Vietnamese to say precisely what they would do if American bombing of the North were stopped.

Greenwood
to Build a New Courthouse

GREENWOOD, Ark. (AP) — County Judge Ben Geren got the official go-ahead Tuesday to construct a new courthouse for the Lower District of Sebastian County after voters approved the proposal in a special election.

A tornado destroyed the courthouse and most of the business district here on April 19 and Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell said it was his opinion that an election would be necessary before federal funds and insurance money could be used to construct a new one.

The vote in the 27 precincts of the district showed 3,555 for reconstruction and 21 against.

Geren says the federal government will provide $140,000 and insurance will provide an additional $185,000. The amount will cover the cost, he said. No tax levy was proposed in the election.

Geren said construction of a two-story structure would begin as soon as federal funds are received.

Weather Note Mountain Town No-Stop Marshall

There is endless speculation on the vagaries of the weather. In Monday's column I reported on a rain-soaked week-long boatman's holiday at Branson, Mo., Harrison, Ark., 38 miles south, had the same experience as Branson.

But 100 miles farther south Conway was suffering from drouth. And there was no rain last week in either Little Rock or Hope.

L. Carter Johnson and I "fixed" that matter. We brought the Missouri humidity belt home with us. It clouded up here Monday — and rained 3/4 inches Tuesday.

The Missouri weather cut our picture-taking to last Saturday only. The black-and-white photos came out O.K. and we'll publish a page when space is available. I'm less optimistic about the Kodachromes, however, which are being turned into transparencies at Eastman's Dallas processing plant. Last Saturday being the first good day in a week Lake Taneycomo was jammed by water-skiers — and water-borne photographers look upon skiers about as unfavorably as fishermen do. The lake was stirred up almost continuously, and the slow shutter-speeds required for Kodachrome don't argue well for our color shots.

Many Hope and Southwest Arkansas citizens have been to Harrison by way of Hot Springs and State Highway 7 to Dardanelle, Russellville and Jasper. But have you ever gone to Harrison by way of U.S. 65 — Little Rock, Conway, Clinton, and Marshall? It's equally spectacular, with high mountain ranges and a roadbed almost completely rebuilt. There are four major passes, one between Conway and Clinton, and three between Clinton and Harrison.

Clinton is the best-looking of the small mountain towns, nestled in a remote valley on the way to Marshall. As you know, Marshall was the seat of agitation for the proposal to put the Gilbert Dam across Buffalo River — finally killed by public opinion. They don't like Arkansas editors in Marshall. My waggish companion, L. Carter Johnson, suggested, "Let's stop in Marshall for coffee." My reply was to tell the story about the Negro comedian.

Someone asked him how he went through Mississippi. He said: "Fast, man — fast!"

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy rains are expected to continue in Arkansas through tonight with shower activity tapering off and clearing by late Thursday.

A cold front stretching from Canada through northern Texas is expected to dump up to two inches of rain in central and southwestern Arkansas through tonight.

However, a high pressure system behind the front will be pressing into the state by Thursday afternoon bringing back fair skies and mild temperatures.

A low pressure system that was leaving the state early today has already dumped considerable rain. Precipitation in the 24-hour period that ended at 7:30 a.m. today measured from 0.06 inches at Fayetteville and Walnut Ridge to 2.40 at Texarkana.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 64 degrees at Harrison to 70 at Texarkana.

Car Overtakes, Driver Killed

SILCOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Alvin Leroy Welch, 24, of Silcoam Springs was killed Tuesday night when his car overtook several times inside the city limits.

State Trooper Bill Partlow said Welch's car was traveling at a high rate of speed and overtook a car making a right hand turn. When Welch swerved to miss the other car, he lost control and overturned several times, Partlow said.

McCarthy Shuns 4th Party Role

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he will not become a fourth party candidate and will not join the effort to organize a fourth party drive.

McCarthy, who has said he might support such a drive if its programs and leaders were acceptable, reiterated refusal to directly participate with a statement Tuesday in Washington.

But the New Reform Party of Montana ignored the statement and nominated the unsuccessful contender for the Democratic nomination as its presidential candidate.

Marcus G. Raskin, whose New Party hopes to get on the ballot in 25 states, predicted over the weekend that several state groups would put McCarthy's name on the ballot, whether he wanted it there or not.

McCarthy said he would deny official approval in those states requiring it to put his name on the ballot, but said he would try to "respond" to the wishes of supporters in states that do not require official approval.

He urged his supporters to work instead for the election of senators who agree with his opposition to Vietnam war policy and his stand on domestic priorities.

McCarthy said he has asked that his name be withdrawn from Iowa where he said it "would have little bearing on the outcome of the national election" and might hurt Gov. Harold

Memory More Likely to Gain in Value Than to Depreciate in Time

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a fadless wealth.

It is the ever-golden currency of the mind, a coinage that is more likely to gain in value than depreciate with the passage of time.

No one can put a price tag on his memories — except perhaps people who write spicy memoirs — but you've probably got a pretty valuable hoard if you can look back and remember when:

The only fellows who beat bongo drums lived in jungles.

One of the first things a bride bought when she came back from her honeymoon was a washboard.

Most farmers still preferred mules to tractors because you never had to oil a mule and it didn't rust if left out in the rain.

During the Great Depression it seemed like there were more men on street corners selling apples than there were eating them.

A young fellow would be ordered out of a community pool if he dared show up for a swim clad in bathing trunks that left his chest bare.

Army Called Inept in Awarding Contracts for M16 Rifle Production

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate investigating subcommittee today charged the Army with "a most inept performance" in awarding contracts to accelerate production of the M16 rifle.

While it will not attempt to undo decisions already taken, the subcommittee said, "this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such a awkward, unreasonable manner."

The five-member unit of the Senate Armed Services Committee commented in a final report on a long investigation of Army contract awards for a sharp increase in M16 production "to meet Vietnam needs."

The contracts were awarded to General Motors Corp. and Harrington & Richardson, without competitive bidding.

The subcommittee said two other companies — Maremont Corp. of Saco, Maine, and Cadillac Gage — were prepared to submit lower prices than those of the winners.

The report summed up major findings with these comments:

"The Army's method eliminated two companies before considering the prices they could and could have submitted . . . They could have been considered without delaying either contracts or production."

"General Motors was selected as one of the contractors without considering that their price was $20 million more than other producers found competent by the Army's own evaluation."

"The removal of price as a factor is not even plausibly supported by the reasons advanced by the Army."

The subcommittee said that General Motors and Harrington & Richardson had each received orders for 240,000 rifles at ceiling prices of $56.3 million and $41.5 million, respectively.

Maremont testified during hearings it was prepared to bid $36.5 million. The report cited testimony to a House subcommittee that Cadillac Gage had set a price of $36.8 million.

The subcommittee renewed its objection to the Army's criticism of the existing Maremont test-firing range while approving a GM plan to build such a range in an open area above its proposed production line.

And it again held that the urgency advanced as a reason for abandoning competitive-bidding procedures should have required more consideration to having Colt Industries Inc., previously the sole supplier of the rifle, increase its production.

"The process of obtaining additional production of M16 rifles reflects no credit on those involved in supervising and directing the action. It has been, to say the least, a most inept performance," the subcommittee said.

"It would not now serve the national interest to call a hold to the production efforts already underway. 'Certainly, however, this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such an awkward, unreasonable manner.'"

Two Accidents Investigated

There were no charges by Officers R. Rowe and McCulley.

Nixon Opens Campaign in Chicago

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon fires the opening gun today in his campaign for the presidency and he says he is starting on an "upbeat note."

He added, however, that the outcome of the election can not be predicted now because issues, not the candidates, are predominant in the minds of the voters.

"When people are more concerned about issues than men," Nixon said Tuesday night in an unscheduled news conference, "they make up their minds by what the candidates say about the issues. This is the year when people are wrought up. This is the year when people are unpredictable."

The first campaign swing takes Nixon to Chicago, San Francisco, San Jose, Calif., Houston, Oklahoma City and

Daley Wants Air Time But No Panel

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. has offered Mayor Richard J. Daley a special one-hour program in response to his request for air time to explain "what really happened" during the Democratic National Convention.

But a spokesman for the mayor said Tuesday night Daley termed the NBC news offer "unresponsive" and said the mayor probably would not attend.

Daley said Tuesday he sent letters to the three major television networks requesting one hour of prime time to counteract "the one-sided portrayal of the controversial events that were telecast" during last week's convention.

Reuben Frank, NBC news president, said in New York he invited Daley to "appear for a discussion of these events with a panel of distinguished reporters and editors on a special one-hour edition of 'Meet the Press,' Friday, Sept. 13."

Reacting to the NBC offer, the mayor's office spokesman quoted Daley as having said, "This is not what I requested. There is no need for a panel of reporters."

Frank said, in extending the offer, that he could not accept Daley's description of NBC telecasts as a "one-sided portrayal."

The other networks, the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The principal in a state Supreme Court case that led to enactment of a law allowing youngsters under 14 to serve as newspaper agents or carriers was killed Tuesday in a car-truck collision on Arkansas 7 four miles north of El Dorado.

He was Tommy Cagle, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cagle of El Dorado.

Cagle received a $115,000 award against the Arkansas Democrat as a result of a 1965 motorcycle accident while he was delivering for the newspaper.

The judgment was granted after the Supreme Court ruled that a child under 14 years of age couldn't sell newspapers.

The court's interpretation of the child labor law led to the passage on the last day of the 1967 General Assembly session a bill allowing youth under 14 to act as newspaper agents or carriers.

Critically injured in the accident was Kenneth Van DeWees, 17, also of El Dorado. DeWees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester DeWees, was in the car with Cagle.

Kremlin Axe Appears Falling on the Czech Officials Who Resisted

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — Strict censorship rules were announced today as the Soviet Union tightened its grip on occupied Czechoslovakia. The architect of Czechoslovakia's economic reform program resigned and the foreign minister appeared to be on the way out.

Deputy Premier Ota Sik, whose policies envisioned trade and aid from the West to break free from dependence on the Soviets, resigned Tuesday night, Prague Radio reported. It said President Ludvik Svoboda accepted the resignation.

The Soviet government made plain it also expects the ouster of Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek. The government newspaper Izvestia called him an "accomplice of the dark forces of reaction and counterrevolution" and accused him of seeking foreign policy changes which Moscow opposes, including closer ties with the West.

Hajek also angered the Soviets by seeking the support of Communist Yugoslavia and Romania — both rebels against Kremlin domination — in what looked like a revival of the pre-World War II Little Entente.

Izvestia also attacked Sik along with Planning Minister Frantisek Vlasak and State Control Minister Stefan Gasparik.

Vlasak and Gasparik returned to Prague from Yugoslavia Tuesday, but Sik remained in Belgrade and Hajek is in Switzerland. Sik and Hajek have been abroad since before Soviet, Bulgarian, Hungarian, Polish and East German troops invaded Czechoslovakia on Aug. 20.

Hajek came to New York for the U.N. Security Council debate on the invasion, but on orders from Prague asked the council to drop the matter after Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders reached an agreement in four days of negotiations in Moscow.

That agreement provided for gradual withdrawal of occupation troops as the situation "normalized," but Czechoslovak Communist party officials seem increasingly convinced that the Russians will stay for years, perhaps decades.

The invasion frayed the ideological ties that bound the Czechoslovak army to its Warsaw Pact allies.

Civilians Target of Cong Guns

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled another major South Vietnamese city today, and the U.S. Command reported three American helicopters and a fighter-bomber shot down in the South. But a general lull in sustained fighting continued into a fifth day.

Two of the aircraft, a $2 million Air Force F4 Phantom and an Army helicopter, were downed three miles from the Cambodian border Tuesday, but all six crewmen were rescued. The Phantom was supporting allied infantrymen northwest of Tay Ninh, and the helicopter was shot down as it tried to rescue the Phantom's two crewmen. Two other helicopters completed the rescue.

Ground fire brought down another chopper in the central highlands, near An Khe. One crewman was injured and the helicopter was destroyed.

The third helicopter was shot down on a combat assault mission 15 miles southwest of Saigon. Three crewmen were killed, and a fourth wounded. This was in the same general area where American infantrymen clashed late Tuesday with an enemy force of unknown size. Fourteen of the enemy and four Americans were killed and 22 Americans were wounded.

A total of 833 American helicopters now have been downed in combat in South Vietnam during the war, while the Phantom was the 300th fighter-bomber downed in combat in South Vietnam.

Nha Trang, headquarters of the U.S. 1st Field Force 200 miles northeast of Saigon, was the major city shelled by mortars and recoilless rifles early today; a Vietnamese policeman was killed and 21 civilians and 17 allied soldiers were wounded.

The attack continued a pattern of the last few days in which the Viet Cong have reverted to long-distance attack with mortars and rockets after suffering heavy losses in two weeks of ground assaults.

The gunners appeared to be aiming for the Nha Trang airfield, but some of their rounds apparently were off the mark and hit in residential areas, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman said a few military facilities were hit, but first reports indicated that over-all damage to them was light. One American soldier was among the wounded.

On Monday, enemy gunners slammed 31 Soviet 122mm rockets into Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, killed 26 civilians and wounded 45.

Another 20 civilians were killed and 50 wounded during a heavy mortar and ground attack Monday night on Long Thanh, a district headquarters town 20 miles east of Saigon.

For the fifth straight day, only light, scattered action was reported today.

In the biggest clash, a column of armored personnel carriers from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division fought its way out of a three-sided enemy ambush Tuesday on a hotly contested highway 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

Nineteen North Vietnamese troops were reported killed, while American casualties were one killed and 34 wounded. Two armored personnel carriers also were destroyed by the enemy's intense rocket, grenade, mortar and automatic weapons fire.

The highway runs between Tay Ninh and Dau Tieng and is the only overland supply route for 25th Division bases guarding the northwest invasion routes to Saigon.
